

YEAR 10 PHOTOGRAPHY CURRICULUM PROGRESSION OVERVIEW

Photography is defined here as the practice of producing images using light-sensitive materials such as photographic film, or digital methods of development and production to create static or moving images.

Students must develop and apply the knowledge, understanding and skills specified in the subject content to realise personal intentions relevant to photography and their selected areas of study.

The following aspects of the knowledge, understanding and skills are defined in further detail to ensure students' work is clearly focused and relevant to photography.

Why this learning now?	Within the course, coursework is worth 60% of the final grade. The exam board requires a minimum of 2 extended projects from each student. All three projects delivered give students the opportunity to demonstrate different photography and development processes. Seashells – macro photography, digital kaleidoscope. Sweets – colour, composition, digital design and drawing development. Nature and reflection – Location and sculpture photography, digital reflections, multimedia developments.
Assessment Opportunities:	Every lesson has: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- A starter that recalls skills that can be used/developed in their work.</li><li>- Self-assessment opportunities these are visible to the students and are the assessment criteria for each section of their coursework.</li><li>- Teacher assessment, giving each student frequent verbal feedback and direction.</li></ul>
Learning at Home	Homework tasks are set fortnightly – Students are required to take 18 photographs based on a theme given to them.

Key Vocabulary	Colour line form tone texture shape pattern composition scale sequence surface contrast
